Paul Baker

Solicitor

baker@saunders.co.uk

Paul was educated at Sutton Valence School in Kent, at Lancaster University (History and Politics) and at Sussex University (post graduate).

He was employed by O'Brien's, a criminal law firm in Camden for some years where he gained experience in preparing and briefing the most serious of cases. He moved to Saunders & Co in 1982 and has continued in that work.

He has been successfully involved in some of the highest profile and most complex cases, especially those involving serious and organized crime including drug conspiracies, murder and cyber fraud. He believes in maintaining close contact with clients and choosing counsel to represent them with the greatest care.

Chambers Directory 2009-10 cites him as "fabulously efficient; he doesn't make a fuss, just gets on with the job".
